

Robin McGrath Interviewing former Hudson's Bay Company employee Red Pedersen. NWT Archives N-1998-049.

I went to Perry River in February of '54. The first time I was an apprentice with the Hudson's Bay Company posted at Cambridge. Part of my duties was to go down once a year, at the right time of the year, to take inventory and to help Angulalik with making up merchandise orders for the following year. And also to just generally check the books and count the foxes and balance the books and...